

PLAYERS STAGE VERNAL 'FROLIC'

Amateur Thespians Gather for Opening 'Shindig' of Spring Season.

ONE IS CABARETISH

Song and Jest. Not to Mention Merry Quip. Make Up Program with Tersapichorean Finish.

Something more than an invitation was needed to break into the "spring frolic" of the Players' Club of Washington last night. The club held its vernal "shindig" in its rooms at 1340 New York avenue and the "frolickers" were but slightly fewer than the program-holders.

It was a very cabaretish affair, this frolic, and after it was all over, there was a dance, for youth must be served. But before coming to the dance, there's something more to tell. George A. Bentley, who made a very capable major-domo, did the announcing without a megaphone. By actual count there were thirty-five acts scheduled on the program, but some of the actors stayed home, which was well, as the "frolic" probably would be frolicking yet. It isn't exactly air tight, but the little fellow, but Clifford Stump, who can't weigh a pound over 225, obliged with a guitar solo, which was called a "laughing song." Mr. Stump did the laughing in ragtime and the audience joined in the chorus.

Miss Minnie Was There.

It being impossible to speak of every one's act, Edwin Callow ought to be mentioned at this point. Mr. Callow announced an adventure of "Georgia de Wash," in connection with the well-known cherry tree. Of course, it was in dialect. "Dis Georgia de Wash," said Mr. Callow, "cuz hee him da cherry tree wit' da safe' rate' for to make biga baseball bat." It seems that George, in his bat-making efforts, desired to "play being sum for championship United States an Cuba."

Right on the heels of Mr. Callow they dug Mr. Leroy Gilder from the heart of the program and the audience got a little song or two—chiefly two. His music was a bit technical for journalistic description, but it "went across big," the same containing certain weepy elements that greatly impressed a few of the young men out in front and certain parties who were with them.

Before we forget it, there was Miss Mary Minnie. It seems that Miss Minnie came down all dressed up in her Sunday ball gown—certainly, they wear 'em on Sunday—and she suddenly "called upon," as they say at banquets, for a little monologue, expressing with a wealth of elocution and a manner most imitable the dolorous efforts of a young wife to purchase two dozen loin chops for her husband's breakfast.

Some of These Performed.

There was a whole lot more on the program, but the time had arrived for some tangoing and the best obtainable are the names. Those programmed, regardless of whether they came or not, were Miss Mary Sherier, George H. O'Connor, Miss Richie McLean, Arthur H. Diebert, Miss Anna Wieden, Arthur E. Pierce, Miss Mary Minnie, Walter T. Holt, Mrs. Maud Howell Smith, Miss Alice E. Hill, Mrs. Anna Brett Smith, Newton T. Hammer, LeRoy Gilder, Miss Helen MacLeod, Earl Carbaugh, Miss Marie Elm, Ed E. Muth, Miss Alice Fowler, Walter G. Charnbury, Miss Jeanette P. Buckner, Maurice H. Jarvis, Miss Ruth A. Stokes, Roland R. Rodrick, Arthur M. McCright, W. Cliff Stump, Harry Wheaton Howard, Charles N. Gordon, Niles Bryant, Jr., Edwin Callow, Mrs. Frank F. Maxwell, L. E. Nottingham, Charles Purdy, James A. White, Jr., George A. Bentley, and Miss Mabel E. Roberts.

The dancing was altogether tersapichorean.

$196,000,000 IN BULLION HIDDEN IN MEXICO CITY

Special to The Washington Herald.

Vera Cruz, May 12.—It was reminded today that $196,000,000 in silver bullion belonging to the United States was hidden in Mexico City when the owners sought safety on the coast.
Huerfano, it is said, has refused to permit the transfer of the silver bars, and if discovered the huge sum will go to his war fund.

as dances ought to be, but there's no use being so critical. Miss Doris Moore, somebody said, was the prettiest girl on the floor, and it's admitted with certain reservations, although a roll call would be necessary to decide the point.
Almost everybody "was there with," so to speak, and the point is one which might arouse all sorts of comment, but beauty at the "frolic" was quite universal.

No Pictorially Regrets.

Incidentally, there were a few who sat around the wall and watched the dancing. There was Percy S. Foster, who sells pianos and occasionally forgets to enjoy himself; there was Carl Haves Buttman, who amuses himself by telling the magazines about the new collections at the Smithsonian Institute; Howard Accetta, the newspaper scribe; L. Stoddard Taylor, who believes in uplifting the drama and manages a theater for recreation; M. T. Kahn, of the club circuit; James Brady, the well-known social expert; one reporter and two brunette musicians, who were on speaking terms with a piano and a drum.

HOME RULE BILL WILL PASS IN PRESENT FORM

Violent Scene in Commons as Premier Aquith Announces Government Plans.

Special Cable to The Washington Herald.

London, May 12.—There was a violent scene in the House of Commons tonight following Premier Aquith's announcement of the government's plan in regard to home rule. The premier said, in effect, that the government intends, that the bill, as it stands, shall be placed upon the statute books. It then is planned to introduce an amending bill, which will embody the premier's suggestion for the temporary and optional exclusion of the Ulster counties. The premier said that Arthur J. Balfour bitterly criticized this proposal, declaring that the government was asking the house to pass a measure which was admittedly defective, and which it is confessed must be amended before it could be of service.

HER $100,000 GEMS VANISH IN PARIS

After Supper in Restaurant—Believed to Be Thieves' Victim.

London, May 12.—Two large diamonds, valued at $100,000, were lost in Paris late yesterday by Mrs. K. Richards, of Atlantic City. The police believe they were stolen. Mrs. Richards, who is passing the season in Paris, went to the opera last night, and went to a restaurant for supper. At that time she was still wearing the diamonds, and it was not until after supper while speeding in her automobile to her apartment in the Rue Pierre Charron, that Mrs. Richards discovered her loss.

REFUSES CALL TO CAPITAL.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 12.—Rev. George Caleb Moore, pastor of the First Epis-tolic Church of Jamestown, N. Y., announced tonight that he had declined a call to Immanuel Baptist Church in Washington.

His church at Jamestown burned down three months ago, and he desires to see it rebuilt before making a change. Mr.
Moore was offered an annual salary of $5,000 to go to Washington.

Vera Cruz Again A Wide Open Town

Only Vice of Former Days Which Has Not Reopened Is Public Gambling—No Drinking Among the Soldiers or Sailors in Sea Port.

Vera Cruz, May 12.—Gradually Vera Cruz is working back from military "lightness" to civilian "wide openness." The only vice of former days which has not reopened is open gambling. The gambling demon is all ready to stick his head up as soon as assured that it will not be snapped off. The tables, roulette wheels, "haard capps," and other paraphernalia are untouched, awaiting the starter's word and the yellow gold of the American.

Since the first day the saloons and street cafes have been wide open during the day. Recently they have been permitted to remain open until midnight or after. So far I have seen one drunken person, I have seen a blackjacket, marine, or soldier under the influence of liquor.

A Remarkable Record.

Considering the conditions which obtained for the first week this is a remarkable record. When the men first went ashore they were in a position to obtain enormous quantities of alcohol without paying for it, and without interference. Instead it was the rarest thing to see a man in uniform either on duty or off, drinking an alcoholic drink. Later when quiet was restored the men of duty were permitted to take an occasional drink, but not to spend any time in one place.

It is hard for one who has spent any time with officers and men of the navy ashore and aloft to understand why Secretary Daniels should have considered it necessary to order the abolition of officers' "wine mess," an order, by the way, which has not been officially profueling, provisioning, and repairing. Only inhabitants of island were lightkeepers who abandoned island four or five days ago. The navy forces had seized the island, but only that the commanding officer, in the rafters of the house, was told to insist that the necessary machinery for operating the light was left behind by the keeper. Further information has been requested and the ministering will be explained to the mediators."

VILLA AND ZAPATA PLAN SIMULTANEOUS ATTACK ON CAPITAL

El Paso, Tex., May 12.—Gen. Emiliano Zapata will not attack Mexico City until he does so simultaneously with the army of Gen. Francisco Villa and other commanders of the constitutional army divisions.

This was the positive statement this afternoon of Roberto V. Peguiera, confidential agent of the constitutional party in the United States.

"There is an understanding between Gen. Carranza and Villa and Gen.
Zapata," he said. "I am positive that Zapata will not molest Mexico City nor advance very close to the city until after Gen. Villa and other officers of the north have moved to close proximity of the capital."

"Gen. Carranza has sent messages to Zapata to not invest the city until such time when he will be assisted in the attack by Gen. Villa, Gonzales, Madero, and others."

WATER SUPPLY SAFE.

FUNSTON SAYS IN CABLE

Gen. Funston yesterday notified the War Department that, in case alarming reports are circulated of attempts on the part of the Mexican soldiers to cut off the water supply, he would be safe to deny them. Rumors continue in Vera Cruz that such attempts are being planned, but Gen. Funston stated in his cable that he was of the opinion that they were based solely on statements made by Gen.
Mazo and Gen. Naranjo.

There has been no actual movement of the federal lines, so far as Gen. Funston can learn. Secretary Garrison said yesterday. The pumping station is well guarded, and cannot be taken in any United States troops by force, Funston declared.

HOSPITAL SHIP TO BRING WOUNDED TO GOTHAM TONIGHT

New York, May 12.—Arrangements were completed today for the reception here of the wounded sailors and marines being brought from Vera Cruz on the naval hospital ship Solace. A wireless from the commander of the Solace stated there are sixty-one patients on the ship.

The Solace will arrive late tomorrow, but the work of the hospital in Brooklyn will not begin until Thursday morning.

The bodies of Fireman Ray H. Pulliam and Seaman Clarence Harshberger, the two men who died of their wounds on the homeward voyage, will be sent to their former homes. Pulliam's parents reside in Pulaski, Va.; Harshberger's in Waverly, N. Y.

CARRANZA IN DURANGO.

Durango, Mexico, May 12.—Gen. Venus-tiano Carranza, first chief of the constitutionalist party in Mexico, and Provisional President of the republic, accompanied by his personal staff and bodyguard and several members of his cabinet, arrived here from Torreon Saturday night and since that time has been occupied in reorganizing the state government. Gen. Carranza probably will remain here until after the fall of Saltillo when he will move his headquarters there and establish a provisional capital.

One of the chief reasons for Carranza's trip to the South, is to be in close touch with military operations which are progressing so rapidly and so favorably for the constitutionalists.

BANDIT THREATENS AMERICANS.

El Paso, May 12.—Army officials here have received information that Rodrigo Quevedo, the bandit chieftain operating on the Mexican border in the vicinity of Columbus, N. Mex., has threatened to kill three Americans for every member of his band that is killed by constitutionalist troops that have been dispatched from Juarez to run him down.

His threat was sent here today by way of Columbus, and army officials have received the defiance on the alert and the troops along the border in the vicinity

American Seamen Models.

During the nine days' occupation of Vera Cruz not one of the 4,000 marines or sailors was reported for intoxication, according to a letter to Secretary of the Navy, Brooklyn, by Rear Admiral Fletcher. This, Fletcher states, he believes to be an unprecedented unblemished record in the history.

TEXAS TO MEXICAN WATERS.

New York, May 12.—The super-Dread-nought Texas, manned by more than 1,000 officers and men and armed with ten massive fourteen-inch guns, will leave the Brooklyn Navy Yard at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning for Vera Cruz. En route she will touch at Hampton Roads for ammunition and a detachment of sailors.
It is expected that her commander, Capt. Albert W. Grant, will receive orders to form a unit in the squadron now composed of the New York and numerous gunboats and monitors, and then await eventualities at Tampico.

BRITONS KILLED IN MEXICO.

London, May 12.—Formal announcement of the recent murder of two British subjects in Mexico, and the serious wounding of another, was made in parliament today by Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, Acland.

The dead are: G. E. Williams and S.
H. Green, while the wounded man is F.
Reid.

FALL OFF ROOF KILLS TROOPER.

Gen. Funston reported last night, that Private Maurice Welch, Company A, Nineteenth Infantry, was killed at Vera Cruz by falling off a roof. In his report, Gen. Funston said that Welch met his death while doing guard duty, and that the accident was not due to carelessness or negligence on the part of the soldier.

Industrial Relations Commission Drafts New Mediation Bill.

The Industrial Relations Commission has drafted a bill creating a national board of mediation and conciliation to deal with strikes that may involve the Federal government. The draft will be sent out to the public with a request for criticisms, and the public hearings will be held by the commission, beginning in New York Monday.

The bill is modeled somewhat after the plan of the Newlands act creating the present board of conciliation and mediation for dealing with disputes on railways. One of the important features of the bill is its plan for co-operation with State boards of mediation whenever such exist, and its plan for mediation with such boards in any section of the country for united action, whenever a dispute extends beyond the limits of a single State.

PRESIDENT CONFERS WITH O'SHAUGHNESSY

Mexican Situation Fully Discussed During Hour's Talk at the White House.

HUERTA'S REIGN NEARING END

President Wilson conferred with Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge of the American Embassy at Mexico City, for an hour last night. It was the first time he had seen Mr. O'Shaughnessy since the latter was given filing in that which the President did as much of the talking as his visitor.

Authoritative denial was made last night that Mr. O'Shaughnessy had returned from Mexico nursing dissatisfaction with the Wilson administration, as did former Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy was questioned by the President with regard to the personalities of Huerta and other dominating figures in Mexico, and information was given in that which the President has gathered from other sources. No effort was made by the diplomatic officer to convince the President that definite changes from the present policy are necessary, nor was there any evidence from his conversation that he regarded himself as anything other than a subordinate reporting to his superior.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy, it is understood, did not, however, conceal the conviction that the reports emanating from Vera Cruz and Mexico City that Gen. Huerta is preparing to relinquish the Provisional Presidency and flee to Europe are groundless. His belief is that the dictator will fight to the last and give in only when forced to do so.

It was learned tonight that Mr.
O'Shaughnessy's personal belief is that it is altogether possible for the United States to unite the various factions in Mexico under a stable government, provided this government will take the responsibility and trouble of executing the task.

STABBED AS RESULT OF PRANK.

Colored Man Wounded in Heart by Butcher Who Chased Him.

As a result of a prank, Abner White, colored, of 214 Thirteenth street northwest, is at Emergency Hospital suffering from a butcher knife wound in the chest and heart, inflicted by Fred Towish, grocer, at Fourteenth and Monroe streets northwest.

At Emergency Hospital White said it was an accident. He said "he was often playfully chased after me with a knife, but never meant no harm."

Although seriously wounded, White walked several blocks to the Northern Dispensary Hospital and from there was transferred to Emergency Hospital.

COMMERCE CHAMBER TO DRAFT BAD CHECK BILL

Business Men Oppose Avis Measure as Lacking "In Discrimination of Intent."

CONSIDER OUTING FOR SUMMER

The Chamber of Commerce again debated the merits of the Avis bad check bill pending in the House at its monthly meeting last night. At the last meeting it went on record as opposed to it, because it did not distinguish between cases involving and not involving guilty intent.
Business men, who were not at that meeting made a motion to reconsider, and after a parliamentary skirmish, President William F. Gude allowed a reopening of the discussion.

The body again went on record against the measure, as drawn, and a special committee will be appointed to draft another to be introduced as the chamber's own bill.

Senator Butler, of North Carolina, closed the debate for the anti. The bill introduced by Representative Avis, of West Virginia, would give the maker of a bad check twenty days to make good, but this, the chamber concluded, would not relieve the drawer of the stigma of crime under the wording of the bill.

Richard P. Andrews, chairman of the entertainment committee, proposed three itineraries for an outing for the chamber the coming summer. The members voted in favor of a day trip down the Potomac in June or July, with a night and day between Old Point Comfort, Norfolk and Cape Henry. The date will be announced later.

causes that the administration program would be adopted just as it was presented by Mr. Underwood. Amendments offered to make the rural credits bill, the bill aimed at dealing in cotton futures, and a number of other bills part of the legislative program were defeated by overwhelming votes. The rural credits bill had more strength than any of the others, but only twenty of the more than 200 Democrats present voted to incorporate it in the program.

Ragulate Criticizes President.

It was decided before the caucus was called to order that neither the prohibition amendments nor the suffrage amendments should be given place in the program. The vote on the prohibition amendments will be provided by other means.
Suffrage will not come up at this session if the House leaders adhere to their previous determination.

Bitter complaint was made by Representative Ragdale, of South Carolina, an anti-administration Democrat, over the failure of the President to ask for the passage of the rural credit bill. Mr.
Ragdale charged the President with bad faith on this proposition. He said that Mr. Wilson had promised when the rural credit measure would be passed at this session.

The President could not agree with the subcommittee that has drafted a rural credit bill, so he telephoned to the cabinet, saying that the program may be adopted without a rural credit bill. That absolutely precludes this House passing this important legislation which was promised by the President and the party.

FRIENDS OF BIRDS WIN IN SENATE CONTEST

By Vote of 45 to 17, $50,000 Is Provided to Enforce Migratory Law.

The Senate yesterday, by a vote of 45 to 17, rejected an amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill reported from the Senate Committee on Agriculture, reducing the proposed appropriation in the bill as it passed the House from $50,000 to $10,000 for enforcing the migratory bird law. The effect of the vote was to restore the House appropriation of $50,000.

Senator Gore, chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture, made a fervent appeal to the Senate to make the appropriation $30,000 instead of $50,000.
But his proposed amendment was rejected by a vote of 34 to 16.

Senators were deluged with telegrams from the Audubon societies, the American Game and Bird Protective Associations, and other societies interested in protecting migratory and insectivorous birds. The agricultural bill was before the Senate for about three hours and the debate at times was sharp. Senator Reed, of Missouri, denounced William T. Hornaday for his activities in lobbying for the larger appropriation to enforce the bird law.

"The Senate has been swept off its feet by a storm of telegrams all from the same source and that an irresponsible source," said Senator Reed.
